Good Afternoon,

We would just need it next Monday through next Friday correct Paul? We were looking for all the historical images that you shared with us from ArcGIS Server.

Thanks

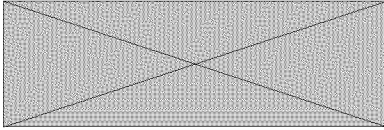

John

Good Afternoon John,

Can you give me the exact time frame that you would want the service turned on and when you will be finished using it? Also, are you looking for imagery from a particular day or all historical images?

Thanks

Hey Jason,

My name is John Lucotch and I work for Weston Solutions. We talked awhile back about the aerial imagery during the Red River response. Would it be possible to get access to the imagery for a short time (short term token) so we can show our Map Viewer in some presentations that will be given by Paul Peronard? I'm reaching out on behalf of Paul. Hope all is well.

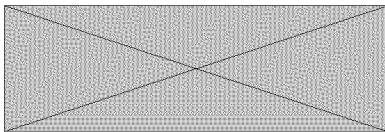

Thanks

John,

You should be able to use the below REST services on your flex viewer. The services are hosted on our ArcServer and do not require a password. I will let you know when I publish more imagery services.

Aerial 2014-07-26 (earliest)

http://flex.cteh.com:6080/arcgis/rest/services/106460/red_river_aerial_20140726_2/ImageServer

Aerial 2014-07-28

http://flex.cteh.com:6080/arcgis/rest/services/106460/red_river_aerial_20140728/ImageServer

Aerial 2014-08-02 (Most Recent)

http://flex.cteh.com:6080/arcgis/rest/services/106460/red_river_aerial_20140802/ImageServer

Let me know if you have any issues, or need these in a different kind of service.

Thanks,

Good Morning Jason,

My name is John Lucotch and I work with Jamie/Dave at Weston. Jamie talked to you yesterday about getting some of the drone imagery and you mentioned we could connect to your ArcGIS Server. Is this still a possibility?

Thanks very much,

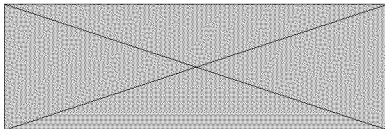

John
